

Joe Colombano

Former Director at the Office of the Special Advisor on Sustainable Development and Climate Change, Executive Office of the UN Secretary-General

Shaping the Global Agenda: the Case of the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development

Monday, November 2, 2020, 19:30 – 20: 45

Link to live streaming to be provided after registration:

<https://forms.gle/FwUjnG4SB77yTjKu6>

 The lecture is offered (in English) in conjunction with the Department's Public Diplomacy course*

Mr. Joe Colombano is an international development executive with over twenty years of experience in the multilateral system and a record of policymaking and thought leadership. As the Economic Adviser in the Executive Office of the UN Secretary-General, he led the political strategy to facilitate the agreement on the Sustainable Development Goals. An economist by training, Joe currently serves as a Senior Advisor to the WHO Special Envoy for COVID-19 and the London-based sustainable investment firm MainStreet Partners. He is also a member of the Investment Committee of Compagnia di San Paolo. Joe was formerly with the World Bank and the European Bank for Reconstruction and Development.